SAYS "PUNKS" ARE DANGEROUS AS CRIMINALS

"It's not the known dangerous criminals who kill police officers, it's the young 'punks,'" Joseph McFadden, Philadelphia FBI agent, told police officers at the FBI-Chiefs of Police school in the council chambers in the engine house Tuesday night.

"Approach these boys the same as you would a known dangerous criminal," McFadden warned, in a lecture on the techniques of making arrests.

"Even in traffic violation arrests, unless the driver of the automobile is known to the officer, he should be approached as a possible dangerous criminal," McFadden continued. "He may be driving a 'hot' or stolen car, or he may have escaped from a penal institution.

"Courteous, But Firm"

"When in doubt, request motorists to keep their hands on the steering wheel. Don't allow them to reach inside their coats. They may be carrying a gun in a shoulder holster," he said.

McFadden stressed courtesy on the part of police officers, but said that at the same time they should be firm.

"It is better to be criticized afterward, and be alive to hear it, than to be unable to hear anything because you are dead," he said.

He discussed serving of warrants, establishment and operation of road blocks, search for criminals, use of handcuffs, "frisking," and other details.

"The policeman making an arrest is placing himself in a possible dangerous situation," the FBI officer said. "Unless he is careful, he may himself be contributing to this danger."

ANOTHER HORSE FROM BIRCHER STABLE WINS

Top honors in the two-year-old fine harness class at the National Horse Show in Harrisburg Tuesday went to a Gettysburg horse, Beau's Welcome Home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bircher, Mummaburg road. Mr. Bircher is owner of the Gettysburg airport.

The horse was sired by Bircher's Beau Le Rose Peavine, and raised on the Bircher farm. Another Bircher horse, Gettysburg Memorial, was second in the model, five-gaited saddle horse class Monday.

Seventeen Pennsylvania-owned horses were among the winners in Tuesday night's competition.

Hanover Horses Win

Melody's Second Son, owned by Brynlan Tyddyn, Alderson, finished second in the class for novice walking horses, with Bray's Island Sunbeam, owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Davis, Hanover, third.

The novice single roadster class was a clean sweep for Pennsylvania entries. First went to Fred Butler, owned by C. R. Allen, Hanover; second to Bay Lightning, Mummaburg; third to the Columbia farms' Notice Me, and fourth to Big Zig, owned by J. J. Zeigler, Shippenburg.

Merry Giovanni's Lady, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Barick, Shippenburg, was second in the class for walking horses ridden by the owner.

Mexican Horses Win

Mexico dominated the international field at the show. Both as a team and as individual riders, the Mexicans have virtually swept all jumping events in early competition against military teams from France and Canada.

Apart from international competition, Trader Bedford, a powerful gelding, practically clinched the title of Professional Jumper of the Year. The six-year-old bay, owned by Arthur M. Nardin, New York city, earned 20 points in the show's opening jumping event, bringing his year's total to 192.

BREAK IN MAIN CURTAILS WATER

Water pressure throughout most of Gettysburg was at a very low level this morning and the situation will not be corrected until six or seven o'clock this evening.

E. C. Schwalm, manager of the Gettysburg Water company, said this morning that during the cleaning of the Baltimore street water main early this morning the cleaning machine was stopped when the 12-inch pipe split in the vicinity of the Strand theatre.

The break occurred about 3:30 o'clock this morning. Cleaning operations were stopped. Workmen started probing for the break and it was not until 11:30 o'clock this morning that it was discovered.

The break curtailed the pressure of water throughout most of the town and householders were handicapped through lack of water. The break is being repaired. Mr. Schwalm said, and full pressure is expected to be restored about six or seven o'clock this evening.

New Issue Will Go On Sale In Local Office November 19

A photograph of the new United States postage stamp to commemorate the 85th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was received today by The Gettysburg Times from Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson. It will go on sale for the first time, November 19, at the Gettysburg post office.

The stamp is 0.84 inches by 1.44 inches in dimension, arranged horizontally, with a narrow shaded border. In the left corner is a reproduction of a statue of Abraham Lincoln on a dark background. To the left is a plaque bearing the wording "That Government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth," in shaded Roman, and Abraham Lincoln in shaded Gothic. A lighted torch on a dark background panel forms the right portion. A palm branch is extended across the bottom border over which is the dark Roman lettering "U. S. Postage." The denomination "3 cents" in white Roman is in the upper left corner.

The new stamp was designed by C. R. Chickering and submitted to the Post Office Department on September 7. The reproduction of Lincoln is from a portrait by Douglas Volk made in 1908.

Three models were submitted by Mr. Chickering. A few Gettysburgians were privileged a preview of the three models and were given the opportunity to express a preference. Final decision rested with the Postmaster General.

The stamp will be issued in sheets of 50 and will be printed by the rotary process, electric-eye perforated. An initial printing order of 60,000,000 has been authorized, and the color will be blue.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of this new stamp may send as many as 10 self-addressed envelopes to Lawrence E. Oyler, postmaster, together with postal note or money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

This is the first time a U. S. postage stamp has ever been issued to commemorate a speech. It is also believed to be the first time the Post Office Department issued a stamp in an anniversary year other than in cycles of 25, 50, 75 or 100 years.

Films Show Bullets Victims Of Decisions

A showing of films taken of the Gettysburg-Lehigh football game at Bethlehem last Saturday clearly reveals the officials erred in two of what had been controversial decisions which ultimately played a decisive role in the Bullets' 14-13 defeat.

This evening at 8 o'clock the public is invited to a showing of the pictures at the SCA building during a meeting of the Quarterbacks club.

The films show the Lehigh punter stepped out of the end zone early in the fourth period which should have given the Bullets an automatic safety, 2 points. The play came after a disputed pass play on the part of Lehigh. Another error was revealed when officials ruled a Lehigh lateral in the third period as a forward pass which prevented the Bullets securing possession of the ball at that point.

There will be no showing of the films in the recreation room Thursday evening.

6-YR. OLD GIRL STRUCK BY CAR

Jill Polhemus, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Polhemus, near Abbottstown, suffered concussion and lacerations of her knees at 4:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when she was struck by the automobile of Charles L. Neiman, 20, of Abbottstown R. 1, a mile south of that borough on the Abbottstown-Hanover road.

State police of the Gettysburg sub-station, who investigated the accident, said the child ran across the highway toward a school bus. She was struck by the right fender of Neiman's car. Neiman took her to the Hanover hospital. Damage estimated at $5 was done to Neiman's light headlights.

Police said Hankey started to turn into a farm lane and Lentz collided with his car. Damage to Hankey's car was estimated at $100, and to the Lentz car at $175.

FORMER COUNTY COUPLE KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

A couple who formerly lived near Abbottstown, met death in a head-on collision of their car with a truck on the Sunshine trail, four miles east of Waynesboro, Tuesday afternoon.

The wife, Mrs. Hattie Gorsuch, 65, died almost instantly. Her husband, Jesse Gorsuch, 70, died at midnight at the Waynesboro hospital.

The couple resided at Quincy for the past year. They had resided at Waynesboro previously after moving from their farm near Abbottstown in 1943. Both were natives of Carroll county, Maryland, and moved in the early 1900s to Waynesboro, residing there until 1929 when they took up farming in Adams county.

Headon Collision

Franklin County Coroner S. D. Shull said the Gorsuch car, following a truck while going west on the road, attempted to pass the truck and slammed head-on into a tractor-trailer driven by Robert Knoll, 41, of Chambersburg R. 1.

There were no skid marks behind the wreckage of the Gorsuch car. Its front end was demolished and it came to rest to the left of the road against a guard rail.

Unconscious when taken from the car, Gorsuch revived upon reaching the Waynesboro hospital and was able to mutter his name. The truck driver received a bruised hand in the crash.

Plan Double Rites

Mrs. Gorsuch was a daughter of Abram I. and Catherine Petry Geiman, late of Carroll county. She was a member of the Waynesboro Church of the Brethren. Surviving are two brothers, Wesley M. Geiman, Westminster, and David Geiman, Hollywood, California, and a sister, Mrs. Lucy Royer, Canada. Mr. Gorsuch was a son of the late Thomas and Effie Allobaugh, of Carroll county, and worked at the Frick company when he resided in Waynesboro.

RUSS OFFICERS DESERT WITH BIG BOMBER

Vienna, Oct. 20 (AP)—A twin-engine Russian bomber with two officers deserters from the Soviet Air Force landed at the American air base near Linz October 9, American sources said today.

The plane and one member of its crew—a sergeant—were returned to Russian custody. Two officers who said they were fleeing the Soviet Union were given refuge in the U. S. zone of Austria.

The pilot and navigator of the plane said they were trying to escape for "political reasons" for more than a year, the U. S. sources reported.

Land In U. S. Zone

The craft took off from a base in the Ukraine on what was supposed to be a routine training flight. The pilot said his maps did not extend beyond Linz.

He brought his plane down on the first airfield he saw after reaching the U. S. occupation zone of Austria, the informants said. The one he picked was Hoersching Air Base at Camp McCauley, about 10 miles inside the zone.

The plane was reported damaged when the pilot overshot the runway, crashing into a wooden fence, but the three aboard were not injured.

The sergeant was quoted as saying he did not know the pilot's destination until the plane was in the air, and that then he was given the choice of parachuting over Soviet territory or remaining aboard.

Return Is Demanded

High level negotiations of American and Russian high commissioners in Austria opened last Thursday.

The Russians demanded immediate return of both the plane and crew. U. S. Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes offered immediate return of the plane, but refused to return the men against their will.

Soviet Col. Gen. Vladimir Kourassov was assured that any of the three who expressed a desire to return would be turned over to the Soviets immediately.

A Russian officer interviewed the men yesterday. The two officers stuck to their decision. The sergeant elected to return.

SCHOOL ASKING PLACE IN BUDGET

The Gettysburg Presbyterian Church school, which has supported its own program for many years with its own funds will ask official boards of the church to consider a budgetary provision for the Christian education program of the church with the school's offerings in turn going to the church treasury.

The matter was taken up at the October meeting of the school's officers and teachers Tuesday evening as an indirect result of the initiation on October 1 of the use of the new curriculum in the church school. The report of Frank Hewetson, school treasurer, showed a balance of slightly more than $300 in the treasury. The school recently completed payment of a pledge of nearly $200 to the church Restoration fund for postwar reconstruction work abroad.

The church school leaders also discussed preliminary plans for a Christmas program and decided upon a re-arrangement of the room assignments of Junior and Junior High departments in the school so that the younger group will have an assembly room for separate worship programs.

Treasurer Hewetson and E. Donald Scott, secretary, were appointed to a committee to estimate financial income and expenses for 1949 in preparation for budget work.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road. The next meeting will be held November 16 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bigham. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

FOUR CHILDREN DIE IN FIRES

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Breaking away from rescuers, a six-year-old girl ran back into her blazing Brooklyn home and died in the flames yesterday.

Officials could not learn why the victim, Margaret Johnson, darted back into her fire-swept ground-floor apartment while being led out through a hallway.

Her mother, Mrs. Rose Johnson, a widow, and three sisters were rescued by passersby. Two of the sisters were badly hurt.

Origin of the fire was not determined.

Kansas City, Oct. 20 (AP)—Three small children, trapped in an upstairs hallway, burned to death last night when fire destroyed their home.

Their parents, George Smith, 27, and Mrs. Dorothy Smith, 26, escaped by jumping from a porch roof after dropping a fourth child, Ralph, 1, safely to the ground. The dead were Frances, 7, Karen, 6, and Larry, 4. The fire, of undetermined origin, enveloped the hallway where the three victims were sleeping. The parents could not reach them.

Three other families living in the house escaped without injury. Smith had to be restrained from trying to re-enter the flaming house to reach his children.

Here And There News Collected At Random

the next year.

The belief that evil spirits roam among men on Halloween can be traced to this druidic "gathering of the souls."

The Druids were responsible for linking the cat with evil on Halloween. The Druids believed that cats were human beings who were changed into animals for some misdeed. This superstition took many forms, and later, cats were standard equipment for anyone who practiced witchcraft. When Caesar's legions invaded Britain, the Roman Feast of Pomona mingled with the druidic celebration. Pomona was the Goddess of the autumn harvest—and nuts and apples were eaten at her festival. To this day, nuts and apples have a place in Halloween festivities.

In an effort to curb the pagan aspect of the evening, the early Christian Church set aside November first as "All Saints' Day." The evening before was then called "Hallowed evening"—which was corrupted to "Halloween."

Throughout the years the legends and superstitions grew. The origin of the jack-o'-lantern can be traced to Ireland. The legend says that a man named Jack was barred from heaven because he was stingy. When Jack got to Hades the devil refused to admit him, because, as a human, Jack had played practical jokes on Satan. So, the stingy practical joker was condemned to walk the streets with a lantern until Judgment Day.

Waxing windows comes from the British "Chalk-Back" day. Street ruffians would chalk the backs of adults with circles to indicate that the rule of the summer sun was over.

Children in ancient times were quick to see that Halloween superstition offered many opportunities for mischief. If gates disappeared and horses and cattle were mysteriously turned loose, the town blamed it on spoofs and ghosts. At the time, it was believed that wicked souls took the form of adults, so the children began dressing as grown-ups. If anyone saw the costumed youngsters, engaged in a prank, the spook would be blamed.

Gets Three Years For Auto Frauds

Howard R. Poe, 50-year-old Hagerstown business man, was sentenced Monday to three years in the House of Correction by Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer in Circuit Court after the defendant pleaded guilty to indictments charging that he obtained $7,650 by false pretense from two county banks.

The charges were the first to be tried of a series involving manipulation of bogus certificates of origin for non-existent motor vehicles and fake titles, involving Poe, which are said to extend through three Maryland counties and Pennsylvania, involving, according to one officer, a sum in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The Fairfield bank was among others involved in Poe's bogus operations, state police said.

Bullet Freshman Gridders To Play Western Maryland Here

Gettysburg college's freshman football team will make its debut Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Western Maryland college junior varsity will be met on Memorial field.

Coach Clyde Cole has a squad of 37 men. All are comparatively light, only one, James Perry, 205-pound tackle from Westfield, N. J., going over the 200-pound mark.

The yearling coach has announced he plans to use one team on the offense and another on the defense through the early part of Thursday's game and then mix them for the latter part of the contest.

No definite starting lineup has been decided upon by Coach Cole but the following are almost certain to seek action:

Tackles—James Perry, 205, Westfield, N. J.; Sam DeSimone, 194, Fallsboro, N. J.; Joe Reichwein, 190, Lavelle, Pa.; Edgar Sterrett, 185, Philadelphia, and Walter Kennedy, 185, York, N. Y.

JOE LOUIS WILL FIGHT IN JUNE

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Joe Louis definitely will fight next June at the Yankee stadium against one of three opponents—Lee Savold, Ezzard Charles or Joe Baksi.

The champ said so himself yesterday when he announced he was giving up his four-month "retirement." It was no coincidence that Louis made his speech after a morning conference with Mike Jacobs and Harry Markson, the new managing director of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club.

Here's what Louis said: "I'm going to give the Baksi-Charles fight Dec. 10 (at Madison Square Garden) the once-over and if it looks good I will fight the winner. If nothing comes out of that I might take on Lee Savold who's pulling a good comeback."

Louis' announcement comes scarcely a week before he starts an exhibition tour of 13 cities on Oct. 28. He weighs 220, only 6½ pounds more than he did for the second Walcott bout.

The Maroons have defeated Biglerville and Hanover in their first two games.

Eagles Win First Round Of Grid Play

The Eagles won the first round of the high school touch football league by defeating the Bears, 42 to 36 Monday evening at the high school grounds.

The standing for the first round found the Eagles ahead with two wins and a tie and the Bears in second place with two wins and a loss. The Redskins won one and lost two while the Cardinals lost two and tied one.

The second round will begin Wednesday evening and end October 27 after six games have been played. A playoff between the winners of the first and second rounds will determine a champion and then the champion will play an all-star team from the other squads to determine the title holder.

Several additional players have been added to the rosters of the clubs including Charles Rhoads, who joined the Bears; Lin Kepner, Cardinals; Bill Signor, Redskins and Jim Hankey, Eagles.

Sports Roundup

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Dan Toppling has been telling reporters that a half-dozen pro football clubs will be "ruined" unless the two rival leagues get together.

And in the current issue of Sport magazine Alex Thompson is quoted as saying virtually the same thing. . . . No one should know better than these two. . . . Dan never had a profitable season in Brooklyn before he accepted the All-America conference's $100,000 bid to switch leagues and join the war against the National circuit. Thompson's football finances were just getting on the alkaline side when the inter-league battle began and the costs skyrocketed. . . . Of course, if the leagues did agree, they'd either have to put a half-dozen or so weaker clubs out of business or go along with 18 teams in territory where only four or five ever consistently made money. . . . Somebody might be "ruined" in that process, too. . . . As Bert Bell used to say before he became commissioner: "These damned millionaires are always looking at figures."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler fight at Madison Square Garden October 29 will mark the eleventh anniversary of Mike Jacobs' first Garden promotion. That also was a featherweight title bout, Henry Armstrong vs. Petey Sarron. . . . Yale's Herman Hickman suffers every time he reads about Sophomore Jimmy Cain's running for Army. If Herman had left West Point a year sooner or Cain had been a year later entering college, Jimmy probably would be under the Hickman wing now. . . . Don't know why Hickman should complain. When Levi Jackson is gone, he will have Bob Spears coming along. . . . An enthusiastic Birmingham fan predicts that huge Walt Dropp will hit 70 homers for the Red Sox next season. At that rate, Ted Williams' contributions will be just a drop in the bucket.

GHS Students Will Hold Rally Tonight

Gettysburg high school students will hold a pep rally tonight in preparation for the football game with Chambersburg here Friday evening. Students will meet at the high school at 7 o'clock this evening and will march to center square where cheers will be given and the band will play several selections.

Upon returning to the high school the group will go to the baseball field for a bonfire. Pep talks will be given by alumni.

The rally is being sponsored by the cheer leaders. The public is invited to participate.

MICHIGAN STATE PENN STATE FOE

State College, Pa., Oct. 20 (AP)—The football warriors of Penn State whooped it up on the practice field today anxious to show the skeptics that their team is a topflight outfit because it's good and not because it plays a light schedule.

They'll get their chance Saturday when Penn State's Nittany Lions run up against twice-beaten but tough Michigan State.

Penn State, rated one of the four top teams in the east but scorned to some degree because its opposition to date has come from Bucknell, Syracuse and West Virginia, has not lost in its last 13 games. And that string includes only one tie—a 13-13 deadlock against Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

The Nittany Lions, top defensive team in the nation last year, lost heavily in first string line strength, but appear just as powerful if not more so—in the backfield.

Wally Triplett, speedy Negro wingback from Cheltenham, Pa., is considered by Penn Scout Jim Chandler "the best broken field runner since Glenn Davis." That's high tribute. In addition, Elwood Petchel, ban-

INDIANS AWAIT SERIES CHECKS FOR $6,772.07

Cincinnati, Oct. 20 (AP)—The world champion Cleveland Indians awaited receipt of checks from Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler today for their record slice of the 1948 World Series melon.

Each of 30 Indians will collect $6,772.07 for their Series victory over the Boston Braves in six games. The losers have divided their share so that 31 players will receive $4,570.73 each.

The Indians' individual shares top the previous record of $6,544.76 which the Detroit Tigers received in 1935.

Rickert Gets $1,523. Marv Rickert, the Milwaukee outfielder who joined the Boston club at the end of the season to replace injured Heath, was given $1,523.58 through an executive order by Chandler.

Satchel Paige, Negro hurler who was bought by the Indians during the stretch drive, was one of the 30 Clevelanders receiving a full share. Other divisions of the Series money among players:

National league—Second-place St. Louis Cardinals, $1,341.52 full share each, third-place Brooklyn, full shares of $898.72; fourth-place Pittsburgh, full shares of $391.34.

American league—Second-place Boston, full shares of $1,011.71; third-place New York Yankees, $778.88 apiece; fourth-place Philadelphia, full shares of $415.32.

SAYS LOSS OF BERLIN MEANS "RED" EUROPE

BY RELMAN MORIN
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

"If you give up Berlin, you give up Europe," the German said. "It is as simple as that."

He is a Berliner, a member of that group of newspapermen who have been in the United States studying American newspapers and their methods. Quite probably, his opinions are weighted on the side of American policy in Germany, since he lives under the protection of American arms, and practices his profession by virtue of an American license.

However, he is no yes-man. He is quietly critical of some phases of American policy, but not as it relates to Berlin.

Would Only Shift Scene

His reasoning, I think, is worth reporting, as a counterpoise to the arguments of many Americans who believe we have blundered terribly by clinging to our perilous toe-hold in Berlin. Here it is:

"In the first place, if you get out of Berlin—suppose you withdraw to the Anglo-American zones of occupation in the west—then you merely transfer the point of friction.

"You would still have a common zonal border with the Russians. The incidents and the causes of tension would quickly begin to appear there. They would find excuses and reasons for interference in Bizonia, just as they have in Berlin—most probably over the administration of the Ruhr."

But, he said, a result of vastly greater consequence would accrue if the Americans pulled back.

Really Few Communists

He estimated that less than one per cent of the German people, even those who live in the Russian zones, are Communists or even communistically inclined, at this point.

"Statistics, of course, would show a much higher proportion. But you must remember that, for a German living in the Russian area, it is much wiser to pay lip service to the Russians and their ideas than it is to openly speak one's mind.

"There is a matter of ration-cards, living quarters, and employment. It might even be the difference between life and death."

Nevertheless most of those people are, as he put it, "standing firm in the dark."

Betting Their Lives

Throughout the rest of Germany, there are millions of other Germans who not only pin their hopes on the western democracies but have put their lives on the line by taking jobs—such as his—under the western military governments.

"It is not difficult to picture the fate of these people if all Germany comes under Russian control."

To a lesser degree, he said, the same is true of all western Europe. Again, he argued, it includes those

"satellite" nations that are now in Russian hands.

Their resistance, he believes, will vary in direct ratio to the amount of resistance the United States, as a nation, presents. "As you hold your lines, they get bolder. If you retreat, they will retreat, morally and psychologically, with you."

The land area of the United States is 2,977,128 square miles.

AUTO FINANCE LAW AIDS BUYER

Harrisburg, Oct. 20 (AP)—Pennsylvania's car buyers are today saving thousands of dollars thanks to the 1947 auto financing law.

So says D. Emmert Brumbaugh, State Banking Secretary, after more than a year of operation of the new regulations which limit interest charges on automobile financing.

"The new law has undoubtedly resulted in saving many thousands of dollars for the citizens of the Commonwealth," he said in a statement. Brumbaugh went on to say that licenses were issued in the first year to more than 5,000 motor vehicle dealers, 640 banks and finance companies and 17 collector-repossessors.

Approximately 750 dealers and 100 banks and finance companies, however, still have not made application for renewal of their licenses, he added.

The law bars any dealer from transferring an installment sale contract to an unlicensed bank or finance company. It also makes the contract unenforceable as far as collection of a finance charge is concerned.

More than $10,000 in overcharges have been uncovered by the banking department, Brumbaugh said all of the money has been returned to buyers.

About 13,000 companies in the United States produce oil.

PLAN SUICIDE FOR BUG PESTS

Wooster, O., Oct. 20 (AP) — One of these days, bugs that cause so much wreckage among crops may be obliging American farmers by simply committing suicide.

It's done with ordinary electric light bulbs, researchers at the Wooster Experiment station said today, that attract the pests into a trap. The station has been working on them for 10 years.

"Everyone who has ever tried to get on an unscreened porch in the summertime knows that the porch lights will attract a bothersome range of insects," said C. R. Neiswander, station entomologist. "We have put that knowledge to practical use in constructing a light trap."

The lamp is placed in a dome made of a jar covered on the bottom. The insects hit the lamp or the sides of the dome, fall into the funnel and on into the trap.

What Neiswander likes about the light treatment is that it gets to bugs that have been showing an annoying immunity to poison sprays.

Here are the results:

The May beetle—this bug is the parent of the white grub that feeds on plant roots. During the flying season as few as 12 to 15 traps have caught 20,000 beetles. No daddy

Time Now To Cull Unprofitable Cows

Now is a good time to cull unprofitable cows out of the dairy herd, County Agents M. T. Hartman and Ira N. Dunmire pointed out. The beef value of cattle is high and feed costs the coming winter may be high.

Take out all cows which will contribute little to this fall's milk supply and which hold no promise of future profitable production, they advise. Check over the usefulness of old and diseased cows, three teasers, shy breeders, and cows of doubtful ability. Producing costs are too high to bother with poor cows and it will pay to sell while prices are good.

Nicotine Sulfate Checks Fowl Lice

Several materials can be used to control lice on chickens, a common condition during late summer and early fall, but County Agents Hartman and Dunmire remind Adams county poultrymen that nicotine sulfate is the most convenient. It can be used without handling individual birds.

Full-strength nicotine sulfate is best—no baby bruis.

European corn borer—the most effective work on him—a $100,000, 000 annual crop wrecker—has been done at the University of Purdue.

brushed on the roosts a half hour before the flock goes to roost. One application will destroy nearly all the lice present, but a second dose in 10 days is needed to destroy lice hatched meanwhile.

Pullets treated when housed seldom are bothered with lice before the following summer. One pint of the material will treat 200 to 300 feet of roosting space. Lice cause much discomfort to birds, and lower their egg production and physical condition. The lice live on the birds and feed on feathers and scurf of the skin.

Improve Farm Flocks — Improvement of Pennsylvania sheep flocks is planned in the distribution of 75 bred ewes in the state-wide sale of the Pennsylvania Sheep and Wool Growers' Association at the Pennsylvania State college November 12. Seven breeds will be represented by the animals consigned.

Prepare Soil — Soil for use in seed sowing or for growing young plants in late winter and early spring should be placed in the compost heap now. J. H. Boyd, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, suggests mixing needed lime and fertilizer with the soil.

Comfort Pays — Comfortable housing for the pullet flock pays well in increased egg production, says F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Avoid crowding the birds.

Adams Apple Plant Aims At Year-Around Operation; Complete $500,000 Unit

The Adams Apple plant at Aspers today announced plans for year-round operation, a program, which, if it can be carried out, will make the processing plant one of the few in the country which operate on a 52-week year.

Stanley Mann, of the company, said that the group hopes to be able to go into at least 50-weeks-a-year operation within two years, and expects to be operating approximately 11 months during the coming year.

At the same time, he announced plans to process besides apples, cherries and tomatoes, peas, lima beans, string beans, corn, raspberries, strawberries, broccoli and spinach. Some of all of the products will be canned, and some of all, with the exception of tomatoes, will be frozen.

Spent Half Million

Completion of the new plant at the Adams Apple, at a cost of over $500,000, permits the expanded operation, Mann said, adding that the addition of new types of raw materials to this section a new outlet for more and more crops, thus cutting down the danger that failure of one or two crops will "wipe out" both farmer and processor.

The new plant is not actually completed as far as the "frills" are concerned, Mann pointed out. The company began using the structure as soon as the "working parts" were installed, and will complete such work as the special flooring in offices later.

Designed by V. C. Patterson, A. W. Ruff and L. R. St. Onge, of V. C. Patterson and Associates, York, the new plants has been a model for several additional plants being constructed throughout the world, including two that are being put up in Sweden by the Patterson firm.

Huge Freezing Tunnel

With its 75-foot freezing tunnel able to handle 6,000 pounds of sugar items per hour and 10,000 pounds of non-sugar items per hour, the company plans much increased operation during the next year.

During the present season one million pounds of peas were processed, as a test. Next year the company hopes to process 2,500,000 pounds of peas, Mann said.

Provided the crops come in normal fashion the plant will start processing spinach in late February, and move on through peas, cherries, string beans, lima beans and tomatoes into apples, with the apple processing lasting into February.

With some repacking scheduled for frozen foods, in removing them from larger containers in which they are frozen to smaller containers for retail sale, the plant should be in operation nearly 12 months of the year, the company pointed out.

Fireproof Insulation

The new freezing plant with its 10-and 12-inch insulated walls marks one of the first times that completely fireproof insulation has been used in this section, the Mann's said they had been told by the engineering firm. A blow torch used against the new Johns Manville insulation fails to set it afire or affect it in any way, they said.

To give an idea of the amount of raw materials needed for the plant, Stanley Mann attempted to break the idea down into the size of a farm needed to provide the food-stuff if one farm supplied all the necessary materials for processing. The farm would have to have 1,250 acres devoted to peas, 1,300 acres devoted to lima beans, 300 acres in corn, an additional 300 acres in

FARM CALENDAR

Store Sound Vegetables — Only well-matured and sound pumpkins and squashes should be placed in winter storage, says J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. They keep best under warm, fairly dry conditions, 42 to 55 degrees temperatures and 50 to 70 per cent relative humidity, with good circulation of air.

Curb Farm Fires — Disking a strip around a brush heap or fence row to be burned out forms a firebreak to keep the fire from getting out of bounds, reminds F. T. Murphy, extension forester of the Pennsylvania State college. Brush burning can be done most safely when there is dew on the ground or after a light rain or snow.

Train Colts Early — Colts handled and halter-broken when young become accustomed to such handling readily, are easily approached in the pasture or stall, and take more advanced training in stride, says C. A. Burge, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

also doing a large amount of work for other businesses, canning and freezing articles under the other company's labels and in addition is doing considerable processing for the government.

The company this year began processing foods under its new label using the Mann name and stressing the fact that the food is "certified by constant quality control." For the labels, the company is using a chrome coated paper which will give the can an appearance in keeping with the quality of the product inside it, Stanley Mann pointed out. Three men per shift do nothing but test the product as it is being processed to see that the quality of the product remains at the highest standard.

Be patient in all training.

Feed Pullets Well — Pullets moved from the range to the laying house should get more feed, especially if they are laying more eggs. Pellets or wet mash, or both, can be used to increase feed intake.

Cleanup Reduces Diseases — Reduce chance of disease next year by burning dead tops of zinnias, phlox, larkspur and other flowers this fall or placing them in a compost pile which will not be used for several years, say Penn State extension plant pathologists.

Protect Wildlife — Animal and bird wildlife need cover and feed for winter survival. Grown-up areas on the farm will provide cover and some grain can be left for feed, reminds R. H. Thompson, Penn State wildlife management extension specialist.

Avoid Potato Injury — Growers are reminded by H. F. McFeely, extension marketing specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, that careless handling during harvest and storage can cause costly injury to potatoes. Cuts and bruises make a potato more susceptible to decay, cause waste when the potato is used, and lower the market value.

Plant Flower Bulbs — Do not delay setting out hyacinth, tulip, and narcissus bulbs. Plant tulips 4 to 5 inches deep, hyacinths and narcissus 6 to 7 inches deep. The soil should be well drained and supplied with organic matter.

Protect Apples — Liberal use of sponge rubber in corners and along sharp edges of grading and sizing machinery will protect apples from injury, according to C. S. Bittner, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Bruises are costly.

"Stuffy" McInnis To Coach Harvard

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 20 (P)—Harvard's baseball stock rose sharply today with the announcement that John P. "Stuffy" McInnis, a member of Connie Mack's "$100,000 infield" and one of the game's greatest first basemen, would be the new diamond coach.

The appointment of McInnis, who set a first basemen's fielding percentage record of .999 while playing with the Red Sox in 1921, was announced by Athletic Director William J. Bingham.

He will succeed Dolph Sambroski who filled in as baseball coach after Floyd Stahl resigned to go to Ohio State. Sambroski will devote all his time to his regular post as director of intramural athletics.

Washing, Oct. 20 (P)—Senator Martin of Pennsylvania always has been known as a Republican campaigner who gets out there and really pitches. But he's topping past performances this fall.

Take a look at this sample schedule: Yesterday he spoke in Woodstock, Ill. Today he'll make two addresses in Mason City, Iowa. On Friday he'll speak in Allentown, Pa., on Monday, Oct. 25 in Erie, Pa., on Tuesday in Wilmington, Del., on Wednesday in Altoona, Pa., on Thursday over a state radio hookup from Harrisburg, Pa.

That same day he'll talk also at New Bloomfield, Pa., and the next day in Camden and Woodbury, N. J. These are all scheduled addresses.

Since September, when the campaign shifted into high gear, he has maintained an almost equal pace, with speeches in Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and elsewhere.

JAPS CHARGED IN WAR CRIMES

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP)—General MacArthur's headquarters Tuesday filed war crimes charges against the admiral who headed Japan's navy at war's end and a general who was in charge of Allied prisoners of war. Admiral Soemu Toyoda and Lt. Gen. Hiroshi Tamura will go on trial separately before November 1.

In each case, a seven-officer commission will be named by MacArthur to hear the charges. The trials will be on a GHQ (general headquarters) level—an echelon above the Eighth Army war crimes prosecution at Yokohama but below the 11-nation trial of ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and 24 others. Toyoda and Tamura are the first of 20 high Japanese military and political figures originally scheduled to be tried as class "A" criminals accused of waging aggressive war. Instead, Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan turned them back to headquarters' legal section for trial on charges of crimes against humanity and customs of war—class "B" and "C" offenses. The remaining 18 suspects are under investigation. General Toyoda is charged with responsibility for mistreatment and neglect of Allied internees in Japan when he was chief of the POW management bureau from December, 1944, to the surrender. GOOD NEWS For GETTYSBURG MOTORS CUSTOMERS

Lounge For Customers
One of the innovations of which Mr. Bream is proud is the new customer's lounge on the second floor. "It has chairs, desks and a radio, and here customers can wait while repairs are being made to their automobiles," he said.
"It's a typical Bream idea—makes the customers feel at home while they are waiting. Salesmen find it a great convenience too, using it to make out their reports," Mr. Bream's foresight in making such a convenience available has received widespread praise. Salesmen say they seldom find such facilities.
This reprint from our special edition of Friday, October 15, is displayed here for the purpose of keeping the conveniences offered by Gettysburg Motors fresh in the minds of our patron audience.
